FORTY-FIRST YEAR — CANYON, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MAY 7, 1936. — NUMBER 8

ANNUAL SPRING SHORT COURSE IS GIVEN TODAY

H-D Club Women and 4-H Girls of Two Districts Are Represented In Course

RECEPTION GIVEN

Miss Elizabeth Cox and Orpa Dennis Are in Charge of the Arrangements

This morning at 9:30 o'clock the annual spring Short Course for Home Demonstration Club women and 4-H Girls Clubs of two Panhandle districts opened with a reception in the home economics dining room at W. T. with Miss Elizabeth Cox and Miss Orpa Dennis in charge of arrangements.

Much interest during the morning hours was created by the exhibit of light weight covers and tufted bedspreads in the balcony of the main auditorium. The outstanding feature of this exhibit, of both commercial and somemade covers and spreads, was the great variety of designs and colors used. The commercial items were used for contrast.

Miss Ruby Mashburn, director of home demonstration work for district No. 1; Miss Lida Cooper, director of district No. 2, and Miss Elizabeth Cox of the home economics department of the College, prepared the program which will run through today. Miss Mashburn presided at the morning session and Miss Cooper will direct the activities of the afternoon.

Talks were made to the group by Miss Hattie M. Anderson and Dr. Harris M. Cook of the College. Other features of entertainment enjoyed by the group were sponsored by different college groups.

This spring Short Course is an annual event and conducted yearly for the benefit of the women in these districts through the cooperation of the Home Demonstration Division of the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College.

Safety Program Subject Tuesday Rotary Luncheon

County peace officers and members of the State Highway Patrol were guests Tuesday at the regular weekly Rotary Luncheon.

The program was in charge of the information committee, with Harris M. Cook, chairman, in charge of arrangements for the safety program. Capt. M. L. Berry of the Texas State Highway Patrol was the guest speaker for the occasion and talked to the group on safety from the viewpoint of the patrolman. A short safety film was shown by Travis Shaw.

W. A. Warren, general program chairman, was welcomed back after an absence of two weeks because of illness.

Rotarians who attended the district conference Monday and Tuesday at Fort Worth were Harry Brown, Bill Smith, Tom Knighton, Lee Johnson, W. H. McIntyre and M. H. Rockwell. They returned home yesterday.

Guests introduced by J. D. Barker were: R. N. Barnett, M. E. Cantrell, E. J. Dunn, Rev. J. R. Sharp and John Weyen, all of Canyon; Captain Berry, Boyce Long, E. C. White, Weldon Boswell and J. L. Pingenot, all of the state highway patrol out of Amarillo.

Base for Granite Marker Completed On T-Anchor Farm

A concrete base for a granite marker has been completed north of the center house on the College farm by the State Highway Department, which is cooperating with the Texas Centennial Commission in erecting markers.

The Centennial Commission is to provide the granite monument with appropriate inscriptions, but no definite information could be secured concerning the nature of the marker or when it is to be completed.

The base is of concrete approximately 4x6, with flares running out to the sides.

Warwick Speaker Today Journalism Program, Columbia

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Warwick left Tuesday for Columbia, Mo., where he is scheduled to speak today at the University of Missouri, which is celebrating its 27th Annual Journalism Week. The program began Monday and will continue through Saturday.

The subject of Mr. Warwick's address will be "The Editor's Other Self," in which he discusses his duties as a citizen and newspaper man, and his chief hobby—the study of government.

Among speakers of national note who will be featured in the activities of the week are: Byron Price, chief of the Associated Press Bureau, Washington, D. C.; Arthur (Bugs) Baer, nationally known columnist of King Features Syndicate; Roy Roberts, managing editor of the Kansas City Star; and many other great journalists from all over the United States.

Miss Emil Brewer of Amarillo, who graduated from the school of journalism last spring, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Warwick to Columbia. She will return to her work in the Resettlement Offices in Amarillo within a week.

After a few days spent in Missouri the Warwicks will visit his mother at Montezuma, Iowa. They will visit many other points of interest in the Middle West en route home.

Randall Democrats Pledged to Support President Roosevelt

The Democrats of Randall County are pledged to the support of President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner.

J. D. Barker was elected chairman of the Randall County Democrats and I. B. Carruth was chosen secretary, in a meeting Tuesday afternoon. S. H. Condron, C. R. Burrow, J. D. Barker, and W. J. Flesher of Amarillo were named delegates to represent this county at the state convention in San Antonio. W. J. Flesher will attend the convention. At the state convention delegates will be named to the national convention to be held in Philadelphia.

Only slight interest was shown in the precinct conventions held Saturday to elect delegates to the county conventions. In most places over the state both the precinct and county conventions were perfunctory affairs with slight interest taken in the proceedings. Uniform endorsement of the Democratic administration was the rule. In several instances slaps were taken at the slight opposition which has shown up.

Only a few attended the precinct convention in Canyon, and delegates were named to the county convention pledged to the administration. The only resolutions presented endorsed the national administration and called upon a united Democracy to vote for a return of the Roosevelt-Garner ticket in November. This ticket was endorsed to the voters of the nation as being the only one which could lead the nation back to prosperity.

CCC Enrollment Period Extended To Include May 15

The enrollment period for the Civilian Conservation Corps has been extended to include May 15, 1936, according to information received by district relief officers at Amarillo and Plainview from state relief headquarters.

Texas completely filled her quota in the recent April enrollment, but some of the eastern states did not, and additional quota has been given Texas. Apparently Texas will have an unlimited quota of white enrollees who can qualify for the enrollment and a fair quota of colored applicants.

Neither local nor district relief offices have been given details as yet, but these should be here within the next few days. In the meantime, those interested in enrolling should report to Mrs. Irene Sloan.

Applicants must be male, and between the ages of 17 and 28 inclusive. They must be single, unemployed, and their families must be receiving aid from some other relief agency. They must also be able to stand physical examination. If the applicant has previously been in the CCC, he must have served at least four months.

Little Miss Arless and Dwayne Atkins of Amarillo spent the week-end here with their grandmother, Mrs. R. W. Ratcliff. Mr. and Mrs. Burleson Atkins visited Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Atkins at Floydada Saturday and left the children here until they returned.

Dr. James Webb Addresses Supts. Meet Saturday

Was Formerly Head of Canyon Public Schools; On Visit Here With His Wife

Dr. and Mrs. James F. Webb of Denton were visitors in Canyon last Friday and Saturday. He was one of the principal speakers Saturday afternoon and night at the meeting of the Panhandle Superintendents Association held in Amarillo. Dr. Webb is a graduate of W. T. and was superintendent of the Canyon Public Schools for several years.

Dr. Webb is now in charge of Teacher Training in the Demonstration High School at North Texas State Teachers College, Denton. Formerly, he taught for several years in the Demonstration School of the University of Chicago, where he had received his Master's and Doctor's degrees with administration as his major. In W. T. he majored in mathematics.

He addressed the Mathematics 410 class here Saturday morning concerning his work with Dr. E. R. Breslick, a foremost authority on modern tendencies in the teaching of mathematics at the University of Chicago. The class is using one of Dr. Breslick's books, "The Teaching of Mathematics in the Secondary Schools," as a textbook.

Dr. Webb also discussed the growing tendency to unify all the school subjects into one. He stated that science and mathematics would probably be as important in the new curriculum as ever, but that the mathematical requirements for high school students are becoming less strict.

Brother Dies at Galveston; Funeral Services Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Sternenberg attended the funeral of her brother, Dr. C. D. Wofford, at Plainview Sunday. Services were held at the First Methodist church.

Dr. Wofford died Friday morning in a Galveston hospital, of pneumonia. He was 50 years of age and had been a resident of Plainview since he was 17. In 1912 he began the practice of dentistry in his home city.

Mrs. Seth B. Holman of Hereford visited Sunday in the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cash.

Executive Committee of Red Cross to Meet

Will Discuss Plans Tonight For Midwestern Branch Representative's Visit Here

The executive committee of the local Red Cross will meet at the American Legion hall Monday night at 8 o'clock to discuss plans for safety programs to be conducted by Roger C. Plaisted, representative of the midwestern branch, American Red Cross, in first aid and aquatic safety.

Mr. Plaisted is expected here May 11 for a three-day stay. In addition to the examiner's life-saving and aquatic safety work, he will propose a highway first aid program and the home and farm accident prevention campaign. This project would consist of establishing highway first aid stations in established places of business, equipping these stations with trained first aid operators, first aid kits, and other equipment to care for injured persons and to secure medical aid for them.

Farm and home accident prevention is an educational campaign to reduce the hazards existing in homes and on farms.

Plaisted, special first aid and life-saving representative for the organization, was for five years engaged in first aid and accident prevention work for the St. Louis division of the American Telephone and Telegraph company. During this period he also served on the faculty of the Minnesota aquatic school for four years during summer vacation periods.

Mr. Plaisted has been very active in the St. Louis Red Cross chapter's life-saving program, is a charter member and former officer of the nated St. Louis Meramec River Patrol, and has been identified in swimming circles for many years.

A native of Illinois, Mr. Plaisted attended high school in St. Louis, later taking a pre-medical course at Eveleth Junior College at Eveleth, Minn. He devoted much of his time from 1929 to 1929 to Boy Scout work, serving as scoutmaster and later as camp counselor for this group. His interest in Red Cross safety work dates back to 1927, when he was a lay instructor in first aid. A year later he was appointed an examiner in life saving. During the summer of 1931 and 1932 Mr. Plaisted was assigned to several Minnesota chapters to conduct swimming and life-saving campaigns.

Miss Esther Rudolph, Miss Minnie Kjelde and Miss Elizabeth Glaub, all of Whittenburg, were week-end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan K. Usery.

WTCC Convention Will Be Held in Amarillo May 11-13

A large number of local citizens are expected to attend the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held in Amarillo opening May 11, and ending May 13.

Jed Rix, convention manager, reports that indications are that this will be one of the largest conventions ever held by the WTCC.

A large and varied entertainment program has been arranged. The spring meet of the Tri-State Fair racing will be in full swing. A convention pageant and revue will be staged in the municipal auditorium Monday and Tuesday nights. A score of West Texas beauties will compete for the title of queen at this pageant. A high school speaking contest, "My Home Town," is another feature of the program. Dances will be held Monday and Tuesday evenings. Admission to these and to the pageant is the registration badge for the convention.

A host of prominent speakers will be on the program.

HAS PNEUMONIA

Dan K. Usery, linotype operator of The News, has been confined to his bed since Sunday with pneumonia. He is doing very well at this time, but it will possibly be a week or two before he up and about again. W. E. Johnston of Amarillo is working as operator while Mr. Usery is out.

Small Opposed to Educational Cut To Pay Pension

Although a strong exponent of the Texas old age pension plan, Sen. Clint C. Small, a candidate for re-election, here yesterday said he would oppose any plan to detract education funds in order to pay the compensation.

Purported gubernatorial platforms of various condidates, none of whom were mentioned specifically, propose to raise $3,000,000 toward paying the pensions by cutting the state's educational appropriations.

"Such a method would only result in an added local burden on taxpayers," Senator Small said. "Texas schools must not suffer under the subterfuge of paying the pensions. If the money was transferred to the pension fund, local taxation would be the only method of maintaining and improving the present educational standards."

Pensions will be paid, the senator declared.

He announced his intention of sponsoring a small sales tax for the sole purpose of paying the pensions as a last resort.

"The people of Texas instructed the Legislature to pay a compensation to aged persons," he added. "They didn't say how. When all other means have failed, I will favor a sales tax."

The senator was in Canyon while on a tour of the 26 counties in the 31st Senatorial District, which he represents at Austin. Twice within the shadow of the governor's chair, he has discarded plans to retire and will seek a third term as senator.

"Texas has greater need than ever for experienced legislators," friends here said. "Senator Small time and again has expressed himself through votes as being favorable to advancement of the 'little fellow' whose voice at Austin makes a mighty little noise."

His policies of conservation of soil, gas and oil have particularly fitted him to represent the Panhandle, where soil erosion and gas wastage form the biggest problem of the day.

His gas bill, now in operation, has reduced popoff wastage to the "irreducible minimum." For the first time in many years, the Panhandle's oil belt is not clamoring for more legislation in order that both majors and independents can operate at a profit to both.

Small has risen to his present eminent place in governmental procedure from a tiny rock cabin near Wellington in Collingsworth County. This was the home built by his father when he came to Texas from Alabama in 1891.

May 15 Deadline For Wind Erosion Grant Applications

The last day for accepting applications for Emergency Wind Erosion grants in Randall County is May 15. The committee requests that all those who want to file applications do so on May 13, 14 or 15, as the committee will be on hand at the county agent's office on those days only.

The committee requests that each applicant see his community committeeman before coming to the county office. The community committeeman must sign application before the grant can be made.

The names of the local committeemen follow:

H. F. Ratjen, Ross Craig, C. P. Robertson, John Bedenk, Henry F. Miller, C. B. Erwin, Frank Gruner, L. B. Hammond, Geo. E. Mason.

County to Organize Wild Game Conservation District

Wednesday night, May 13, at 8 p. m., a meeting will be held at the court house for the purpose of organizing this county in a wild game and fishing conservation district. All people interested in this work are urged to attend this meeting.

Bob Puckett, state game warden, is promoting the meeting through the local people and he will be the principal speaker on the evening's program. Other speakers will be Gene Howe of the Amarillo News-Globe, and Judge H. E. Hoover of Canadian, both of whom are actively interested in this worthy cause.

The organization will work toward the ultimate improvement of all game and wild life in the county in harmony with the state and national organizations.

Mr. Puckett states that through the co-operation of these county organizations, the streams will be re-stocked from time to time and thus always insure good fishing.

Bill Pike is confined to his home with the mumps.

Notices are being mailed this afternoon to all those who have checks in this shipment. This lot of checks includes practically all contracts in Randall county on which compliance was regular in all respects for the year 1935.

New Allotment Expected WPA Sewing Room

The WPA sewing room project was given permission Friday to run for another week by Mrs. Leah E. KaKy, district supervisor, after the allotted money for this project had expired last week. Mrs. Roy Campbell, local supervisor at the sewing room, made the announcement of the extension of time Monday morning and said that Mrs. Kay hoped to have the new allotment for the continuance of the work here by this week end so that no interruption in work would be necessary.

The women in the sewing room are turning out very good work under the able supervision of Mrs. Campbell and many will be thrown on direct relief if this project is stopped at this time. Fourteen new cases were added to the relief rooms last week and the discontinuance of this work would add approximately that many more.

The ladies are making arrangements to hold an open house at an early date for the purpose of showing the callers the excellent class of work they are turning out. The exact time will be announced at a later date.

Talks Made Before Government Group at WT on Thursday

Men of W. T. who were interested in the study of government met in the auditorium Thursday afternoon to hear talks on the subject of future work by the government.

S. H. Condron is directing this group in its study of various phases of study.

Clyde Warwick spoke from the standpoint of a layman as to the present trend to a closer supervision of everyday life by the government. He predicted that much of the present-day activities would be carried on in the future, regardless of political party elected in November.

Ralph Bray, publicity manager, and D. R. Smith, in charge of personnel of the Resettlement Administration office in Amarillo, spoke of their experience in government work.

Young men were advised to make a close study of governmental agencies, many of which offer good opportunities for advancement.

PALO DURO PARK

(State Press in Dallas News)

Regardless of how he stands with his other affiliates, State Press is well set with the Panhandle Press Association. He has a membership card saying he is established in that progressive organization until May 1, 1937. After that date he will have to do something about it, apparently, although the kind secretary, Clyde Warwick of Canyon, doesn't say so. Along with the credentials, Mr. Warwick thoughtfully enclosed a reprint from his newspaper telling something about the attractions of Palo Duro as a vacationing and picnicking place. Editor Warwick ought to know something about the Palo Duro. It heads close to his town and gets deep only a bit of way from the town of Canyon. Also, that chasm or stream or whatever you call it is the beginning of the Red River, a notable watercourse, which for a considerable portion of its length separates Texas from Oklahoma, and vice versa. But let us repeat what Mr. Warwick printed:

With the opening of spring picnicking weather, hundreds of carloads of people are visiting the Palo Duro State Park each week. The attendance so far this spring has greatly surpassed that of last spring. Sixty-five thousand people visited the Palo Duro State Park during 1935, and it is anticipated that fully 100,000 people will visit the park during 1936. One CCC company is located at the park, with work mapped out for two years in advance. Four rock cabins are finished and fully equipped, and another double cabin is nearly completed. It is planned to construct 20 additional rock cabins in the park. One hundred and twenty-five picnicking units are constructed along the eight-mile drive on the floor of the canyon, so that thousands of people may be accommodated at one time with the greatest of comfort. The 15,500-acre park is rapidly assuming shape for a great gathering center for Northwest Texas.

Palo Duro Canyon is worth anybody's visit. State Press has visited it and he speaks as one having authority. There has been much done to improve the big gulch, however, in the last year or two. Those who don't want to leave Texas on vacation might do well to vacate at Palo Duro.

Senator H. G. Nelson of Tahoka has started a definite campaign in favor of a unicameral legislature. Sympathy will be expressed for him as a crusader since his dream will likely not be realized until Nebraska gives the proposition a thorough trial. Legislative reforms come slowly in this nation. It takes the process of education to put over these reform measures. When Senator Nelson introduced his resolution in the last legislature, it received only six votes in the Senate, but fared better in the House. He will propose in the next session of the legislature to elect two from each congressional district to form the legislature. Without doubt such a legislative will be much less expensive; will be able to act much more quickly on legislative matters; and should be much more efficient.

It is very apparent by the reduced size of the crowd at the Palo Duro Park Sunday that the people of this section are not going to be gypped by the increased gate fee just for the purpose of paying off an absurd mortgage on the land. Two large parties of people who had planned to come cancelled when told of the increase of gate fees. The people of this section will be denied the rights of viewing one of the most beautiful spots in Texas because of the short-sightedness of the holders of the mortgage, who want to cash in right away before the park is completed. A score or more of letters from Panhandle citizens have gone to the Texas State Parks Board in protesting the increase. Other citizens should write protesting this unwarranted increase.

A tip to the whiskey manufacturers: In your next series of advertisements, feature the results of drinking the stuff you produce. Show the bloody corpse of the drunken driver, as he smashes into the innocent driver; picture the reeling drunk as he wavers down the street; show the beady eyes and the drawn features of your victim as he sprawls unconscious of his surroundings; feature the hungry children and the neglected homes of your victims, the wife who has been beaten by the insanity which has been caused by your product. Yes, such a series of advertisements would be very appealing.

A number of towns in this section plan to build municipal power plants. In 1924 there were 3,040 such plants in the nation; 270 more were built up to 1933, but during that same period, 1,461 plants went out of business. These plants are promoted by machinery salesmen who paint a rosy picture of what a few successful plants have accomplished; they fail to show what a miserable failure others have made.

A successful citizen stated the other day that he had never made a successful investment outside his own business field. How true that is. Most of the losses taken occur when a man attempts to invest in, or operae in a field regarding which he knows nothing.

"Pensions Are Issue" states headline in daily newspaper referring to the campaign for Governor. True enough. Pensions have been the issue in congressional and presidential campaigns since the Civil War. The issue has been increased since the World War, and now that old age pensions will be granted, the issues will be stronger in the future. Those who get will demand more; those who do not receive the pensions, will continue to demand a place on the pension rolls. It would be a fine thing if our social structure were such that pensions would be unnecessary; but unfortunately that Utopia will never be reached.

Life has been greatly lengthened through the public health service of the nation. A study of public health and right methods of living has been responsible. Sickness is one of the most expensive things to which the human race is subjected, especially when surgical operations and hospital bills are necessary. It is not much of a stretch of imagination to conceive that ere long when the nation is talking of social security that greater medical and hospital service will be given free to the people. The government is rendering many other types of service which are not more important than that of improving health conditions.

The Veterans of Future Wars are having a lot of fun in their organization. The organization was formed with the view of impressing upon the nation the terrible expense connected with pensions following wars. The boys who are sponsoring the organization had as well enjoy themselves to the fullest extent at the present time, for it will be their generation which is called upon to pay the cost of the last world war, the present depression, and possibly pay the expenses of another more costly and more destructive war.

Fast driving is said to be responsible for most of the automobile accidents. The only way that fast driving may be checked is to prohibit the manufacture of cars which will run more than 45 or 50 miles per hour. Even with this fast driving checked, we shall have to contend with the careless driver who presumes that he is the only person on the highway or street.

Amateur hours over the nation are attracting much attention as the result of the regular NBC Sunday night program. Professionals are recruited from the ranks of the amateurs who make good. It is a great inducement for the youth to be allowed the privilege of showing their talent to the world.

A portrait painter describes Vice President John Garner as "cute." A Mexican down on the border recently said of Garner that he had lost all track of him since he had quit being a congressman. Washington society has had a bad influence on Cactus Jack.

The new tax bill threw a scare into Wall Street for a day or so, while the wise ones cleaned up on the stock gambling suckers. It was ever thus. Those who shook their heads after the crash of '29 are now as big suckers as ever in their mad desire to gamble.

Fear holds back recovery. If business men who have survived haven't had enough fear thrown into them since 1929, we wonder just what it would take to make them afraid.

The dickens of taking a vacation is the bad scramble during a week or 10 days in advance of getting away; and the headache following the trip in catching up with lost time.

Clean up; paint up; make Canyon more presentable to the thousands of visitors who are coming weekly.

If you sling mud, be assured that some of it is going to stick on your fingers.

What They Call 'Fun' in Germany

This new device in a Berlin park falls under the heading of "amusement." The gondolas whirl around and around, suspending the riders in an upside down position about half the time. The contraption may not seem so inviting to the more conservative carnival-goers, but it gets a big play, nevertheless, and operators say it is the most popular thriller in the park.

Payments to Veterans

World War veterans will receive a settlement of their adjusted service compensation very soon after June 15, according to the Treasury Department.

Under the law passed at the present session of Congress, the bonds by which payment will be made cannot be delivered before June 15, which is the date they become effective. The bonds have been printed and have been sent to the Federal Reserve Banks for distribution.

Because of the mailing problem which would be created by the release of 2,000,000 letters all at one time, the payments will be mailed in large batches. Within a short time after June 15, every veteran who has had his application approved is expected to receive a registered letter containing his settlement.

Applications are being received daily, and it is estimated that there will still be 700,000 applications on hand when payments are started. These are ones which have recently been received or about which correspondence has been necessary. They will be taken care of as quickly as possible.

The letter which the veteran receives will contain the bonds in denominations of $50, and if there is a sum less than $50 due, this will be in the form of a Treasury check. No other person except the veteran can sign a receipt for the letter containing the bonds.

Bonds may be converted into cash by application at any of a large number of post offices thruout the country. The list of these has not yet been announced but there will be 250 or 300 of them.

Payment Through Local Post Office

The Treasury Department explains that it is not necessary for the veteran to call at one of these post offices in order to have his bonds converted. If he does not live near one of them, he can make application to his local postmaster, who will certify to his identification. The bonds desired to be cashed will be forwarded by the local postmaster to the nearest post office making disbursements. A check will be sent back immediately to the veteran.

It will probably be more satisfactory for the veteran to cash his bonds through his local postmaster so as to avoid any problem of identification.

All bonds will be dated June 15, 1936, and will run to June 15, 1945. They may be exchanged for cash at any time during the first year at their face value, and if held one year from the date of issuance they may be exchanged with an additional three percent interest.

The law provides that the bonds shall not be transferable, and cannot be assigned toward purchases. They are payable to the veteran only, and can be cashed only by him.

The Department says that every effort is being made to deliver these bonds in order that veterans who desire the cash now may receive it with the least possible delay.

The Farm Credit Administration reports that they are receiving many inquiries from veterans who wish to use their payments toward purchasing farm homes.

At the business meeting the course of study for the coming year was adopted, and will be divided into two parts. Topics selected were "Around the World With Modern Fiction Writers" and "Our Hispanic American Neighbors." The club voted to sponsor Guest Day again next year as the one recently held proved so very successful.

Much interest is being taken by the women of the club and many of them participated Sunday in the tournament play.

COLLEGE FARM GETS NEW WATER PLANT

An adequate water system for the College farm was completed this week. The farm has previously had only a 1,000-gallon system, which proved inadequate.

A new 23-foot tower with a 10,000-gallon storage tank will provide the College dairy and the three farm houses with water as well as supplying the irrigation needs of the farm.

The tower is set on a reinforced concrete base, and is built of 6-inch pipe with strutson girders. The platform is constructed of railroad rails. Two-inch pipe conveys the water from the well to the tank, and 1½-inch pipe is used in the distribution system.

LIGHT RAIN HERE DURING LAST WEEK

Rain falling Sunday night in Canyon amounted to only .12 of an inch, but the south and west portions of the county received from one to one and one-half inches of moisture, according to reports from residents of these sections.

A very light shower fell here Tuesday afternoon. The rain is probably too late to benefit the wheat of this section, but will help the soil for row crops.

Rain west of here has been sufficient to cause the South creek to overflow its banks.

Unusual Train to Pass Through on Santa Fe Saturday

An unusual train moving over the Santa Fe lines will pass through Canyon Saturday, May 9. It is a deluxe strem-lined train consisting of 12 Pullman cars and an oil-burning steam locomotive and it is on a 29,000-mile journey lasting six months. The train will pass through Canyon at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at 5 miles per hour, so that people may better view it as it passes.

The train is known as the Rexall Coast-to-Coast Convention Special and it is carrying a business recovery message to 147 towns in the United States and Canada. Conventions of druggists will be held on the train in 109 cities.

The public in this part of the country is invited to inspect the train at Amarillo Saturday from 2 p. m. to 9 p. m.; Sunday from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m., and Monday from 10:30 a. m. to 12:15 p. m., and from 2:30 p. m. to 9 p. m.

"Broadway Bound" Presented by W. T. Seniors Tues. Night

"Broadway Bound," a three-act comedy by Jean Lee Latham, was presented by the Senior Class to a near-capacity audience in the College auditorium Tuesday evening.

The production was under the direction of Miss Mary Morgan Brown, head of the speech department. She was assisted by Wilhelmina Cleek and Forrest Fry, stage manager. Leon Lassers and Charles Donnell assisted with the make-up.

The drama is a picture of life in a cheap New York theatrical rooming house where a group of played-out actors and actresses live with a group of would-be actors and actresses and a disheartened young playwright.

Christine Warren as Jennifer Keyes, a small-town girl aspiring to be an actress, had the leading feminine role. Don Savage as Van Cornell, the playwright, played opposite her. Other prominent members of the cast were Wendell Cain in the role of Kirby Bishop, a former actor; Deane Fletcher as Paul Montgomery, a future actor; Mary Beth Campbell as Kitty Belmont, a former actress; and Mary Louise Mulkey as Billie Jacobs, a future actress. The cast also included June Bieler, as Mrs. Hull, the landlady; James Divelbiss as Ludwig Hahn, a producer; Myles McGehee as Wayne Mitchel, a Broadway angel; and Ruth Stapleton as Myra Terrell, an actress.

"All members of the cast deserve commendation for the very fine work which they did," Leon Lassers of the speech department and former actor, said regarding the production. "The play was exceptionally well directed." He especially praised the work of Wendell Cain, Don Savage and Christine Warren in their roles.

Proceeds from the play will go toward buying the class gift to the school.

Mrs. Charles Krausse returned Friday from San Antonio, where she and Captain Krausse have been visiting during the past two weeks. Captain Krausse has been transferred to Lubbock, but she will remain here for several weeks.

Mrs. A. W. Hamill of Amarillo is a guest this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Sheffy.

Floyd Adams and wife, with Mrs. Bessie Lane, attended the devotional services Sunday evening, led by Rev. Cohn, a Christian Jew. His discourse was greatly enjoyed. He has traveled a great deal. Born in South Carolina, he spent three years in Palestine, some time in South America, and elsewhere. His mother disinherited him when he made the change. His fellow men (Jews) treat him with disrespect.

Lowe McGehee, wife and daughter, of Hale Center, attended services at Wayside last Sabbath.

John T. McGehee, Sr., and Milton McGehee had their car to stall in quicksand in PaPlo Duro Canyon, Monday night. Neighbors helped them out near midnight.

W. J. Studer and wife have been ailing for some days. Both are now feeling better.

Good rains are falling in places not far away.

Mrs. J. T. Crow is much improved.

Howdy folks;

Boy, but there wus a lot uv fun had on thet Austin trip. Ole Joe Morris (Romeo) is the sleepiest hed uv th crew. Thet Fred Hart is a pest. He even put peppersauce in sum candy an let John B. take a bite uv it. Wus he burned up? An it shore upset Fred's tickle box.

I shore am interested to see them pickshurs Sewel tuk on thet trip, espeshully th ones uv Overton Donnell asleep with a pensil in his mouth. Anuther one is uv all the crowd sprawled arun in the bus asleep, an even Mr. Pope was asleep in Mrs. Pope's arms.

By whut I hear Sewel an Fay are settin up a case of puppy love. Miriah keeps tellin me' "Aint it grand whut spring will do to yung folks." Personally, I dont want to write letters to a gal and say how sorry I am thet she aint there, an all th time she am there. Sewel writ Fay one frum Austin. It shore puzzles Fay's mother.

Them press kids sed they shore had a gud driver. Jim Upfold drov the bus an never scratched a fender. Pretty gud I calls it.

Wal this orter be the best edishun uv the whole year, cus them funny fish are ritin it. Ye no Ive been hearin sumthin about Harold Wall takin Hazel Sanders to the show Wednesday nite (how about it, Harry?). Folks, you may not believe it but the freshman class is the smartest in scule, but talkin about dignified, the seniors fit the bill to a tee, since thet Carlsbad trip is comin on.

Benefited—or Not

Journalism students, could you have told last week what towns were between here and Austin? Could you have described such colleges as Hardin-Simmons, Abilene Christian College, Abilene; Baylor, Waco; Mary Hardin-Baylor, Belton; the University of Texas, Austin? Yet some of you were planning to attend some college next year, or the year after. Possibly the appearance of the school changed your mind, or helped you to decide. Had you been in the capitol building of your state? Could you have told me the editor's name of some of the leading high school papers in Texas? Did you have a live interest in your exchanges and their staff members? Could you have told me the name of the editor of the Daily Texan, the University of Texas' daily paper, and yet it has the distinction of being the best college daily in the entire Southwest.

For the majority of you, the answers to these questions would have been "No!"

However, since you have made a trip to Austin and have attended the I. L. P. C. You have gotten new ideas for your paper. You have learned the good and bad points of your paper. You have broadened your viewpoints. You have met interesting personalities and have added to your list of friends. These were the things you went for, and on the side you learned other things.

Press Pupils Attend I.L.P.C.; Collins Becomes Vice-Pres.

Jorunalists View Sights of Austin, 3 Colleges, and Four-day Trip

Yes, it's Mary again! Our Mary Collins, junior, was elected vice-president of the Interscholastic League Press Conference at Austin Saturday. The members of the press club traveled from 4 A. M. to 10 P. M. before they saw the dome of the capitol, viewing and learning about three colleges and universities on the trip.

We were all sleepy but happy when 4 o'clock showed on the face of Miss Goodrich's watch as the group of journalists met here in front of the high school building. Some time was taken up while the boys and the two men of the trip, Mr. John B. Pope and Mr. Jim Upfold, driver, arranged the luggage.

We stopped at Sweetwater for lunch and at Fredericksburg for supper, where we found the scenery changed to hills, green trees, grass and flowers. In Abilene we saw three colleges, Abilene Christian College, Hardin-Simmons, and McMurry. We arrived in Austin a few minutes before 10 o'clock to see the dome of the capitol lighted. We went straight to Alta Courts, where we spent all three nights.

First Session Friday

The next morning we attended the first meeting of the conference, which was presided over by Mr. DeWitt Reddick, professor of journalism in the university. President of the association, Helen Nolen, gave the welcome speech and gave the history of the I. L. P. C. Mr. Reddick then introduced the officers of the year. The main speaker of the day was Mr. John H. Gregory, president of the Texas State Teachers Association. He gave a speech on "Opportunity for Service for the School Paper." According to Mr. Gregory the school paper is the most important activity of the school.

Vice President Marion Miller, from Navasota, made an announcement concerning the election of officers for next year.

Immediately following this, Mr. Reddick adjourned the meeting until 2:30 o'clock.

Tour City

After touring the city, visiting the capitol, and climbing to the top of the dome, the delegates returned to the Union Building for the second session. This session was spent in various rooms in meetings on advertising, business managing, editorial writing, and news writing. At 4 o'clock we went to the old library building where criticisms of the Eagle's Tale were given our group.

We went sight-seeing until 6 o'clock, returned to Alta Courts, and went then to the I. L. P. C. Banquet-Ball. After the banquet we went to the office of the "Daily Texan," and were shown through.

Last Session

The next morning we came to the last session. Mr. Reddick again presided. Mr. Stuart Long, president of Sigma Delta Ki, spoke on the use of the "Ragged-Edge Head-Line." Immediately following this, Miss Clara Stanley spoke on the "Use of the Ragged-Edge Head-Line in the School Paper." Then J. W. Edgar, sponsor of the Mirando Panther, delivered a talk on the "Further Use of the Ragged-Edge Head-Line." Following this, Miss Myrtle Foster, sponsor of the Compass at North Dallas High School, talked on "How to Get Names in the Paper." Kenneth Clark of the Austin Maroon talked on "Special Editions."

Next came campaign speeches and the election of officers for next year. Hal Gamble, Jack Taylor, and Beatrice Miller, editor of the Wheeler Corral, gave campaign speeches favoring Mary Collins for vice president against eight opponents.

Officers of 37 I. L. P. C.

The president elected was Joanne Storme of Houston. Mary Collins was elected vice president. Lois Brown of Elgin was elected secretary.

Poor Jimmie— Poor Leg

B-r-r-r-r-r-r-r-ring. — Hello! Yes, this is Mrs. Colbert—What? —Jimmie!! Where is he? Yes, take him to St. Mary's Hospital! I'll be there by the time you are. Yes, and please hurry!

Mrs. Colbert rushed to the car and sped to St. Mary's. To think, her Jimmie with a broken leg because he had been playing ball in the street. If he had been in school this wouldn't have happened. Oh, dear, what was she to do, but she couldn't keep Jimmie busy during the long summer days, and he had so few activities, and they were not varied at all.

Jacks playing has reached the limelight for a girls' sport. The sidewalks in front of the high school and grade school buildings are covered every day at noon, with students playing jacks. Kate Donnell and Helen Hurst are the champion jacks players.

J. C. Bellah, Forest Hill, Edd Gidden, Jack Middleton and Barnett Ball have been riding horses to school. Nearly any day you can see a "Kentucky Derby" free. Carolyn Mayfield and Sis Overton enjoy riding horses, also.

We are really going to have a good girls' basketball team next year. Last Wednesday afternoon the Eaglettes defeated the ex-Eaglettes, 19 to 14, in a fast game. Although we are losing two of our good players, Mary Ella Davis and Anna Katherine Overton, they expect to be replaced with girls who showed up well in the intermurals and with reserve material.

The basketball girls who lettered had their pictures made April 26.

Eat up distance. but not your bearings

Get alloyed oil . . . and you'll get the difference

Ask your wife. The least little heat makes smoke out of some of the oily substances she puts in her frying pan. They vanish double quick, while others stay put.

That's the sort of difference your hilliest hot-weather drive will show you in Germ Processed, the alloyed oil. Patented.

It not only stays up around "Full," but stays right up in every working surface of your engine. Yes, the pistons, cylinders, valve gear, and any types of bearings ever used, can really take in this alloyed oil. You might say they become lastingly, smoothly "oil-glazed."

Buffalo Stadium Overflows With Visitors Friday

Approximately 1800 Children of District One Take Part In Sing. Song

An estimated crowd of 3,000 persons composed of grade and high school choruses and adult visitors overflowed Buffalo Stadium Friday morning for the District One Centennial Sing Song. Almost 1,800 school children representing 26 counties took part in the program.

Carl C. Clifft, county superintendent of Potter County schools and former student of W. T., directed the program, and Supt. J. D. Wilson, presided. A brief address was made by Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction. Other platform guests were Elithe Hamilton Bell, public school publicity director of the Texas Centennial; V. O. Stamps and his quartette; Miss Nell Parmley of the state board of education; Dr. J. A. Hill; and James A. Rogers, superintendent of Amarillo schools.

The program was opened with several selections by the Buffalo Band. In an address welcoming the visitors, President Hill extended a permanent welcome to the campus and urged the visitors to take advantage of the opportunity of visiting the school's two million-dollar plant.

J. D. Wilson expressed his appreciation for the large attendance and the increased interest in music shown by the District. He pointed out that 37 schools in the district have gained affiliated music credits this year.

The girls glee club of Pampa High School won the praise of the audience as well as the later speakers. In regard to singing Supt. Woods remarked: "It's the only thing we're going to take to heaven. Let's learn to sing here." He briefly reviewed his visits to other "birthday parties" in other Texas cities.

The school choruses and the crowd were unsparingly praised by the speakers.

It was said to be the largest crowd encountered in visits to numerous other Centennial celebrations. The singing of the assembly was repeatedly praised by Miss Parmley, and a photograph was made of the group to be sent to the photography committee of the Centennial Celebration.

Jay Beard, diminutive 11-year-old cowhand from the Mobeetie Grade School, won the approval and a big applause with two vocal solos. The Stamps Quartette netted the largest applause of the day with their three numbers.

Loud speaking facilities were provided for the occasion by the Gulf Petroleum Corporation. Visitors were shown to their places in the stadium by the Hi-Y boys of the demonstration school under the direction of Arthur K. Goodman. A committee composed of two college students from each of the counties represented the sing song acted as guides in showing the visitors about the campus. Traffic was directed by a special detachment of the State Highway Patrol.

"Insidious" Use of "Panhandling" Is Flayed by McCraw

Mayors of America's largest cities were asked in a letter mailed Thursday by Attorney William McCraw from headquarters of the Texas Centennial Exposition to aid in a campaign to stop "the insidious use in your city of the terms 'panhandle,' and 'panhandling,' for beggars and the act of begging.

"Texans do not use these terms," said McCraw's letter, "and they are indignant that other people do, since the Panhandle is the name of a large section of the Lone Star state. This use of the words seems particularly unfortunate at this time, when Texas is preparing to celebrate its one hundredth birthday.

"The people of the Texas Panhandle decidedly are not beggars. On the contrary, the section is one of the richest wheat-growing areas in the United States, producing wheat of a higher protein content than other areas, and is also rich in its production of oil and cattle."

Local Scouts Will Compete in Annual Camporee Friday

The Canyon Boy Scouts will enter the annual camporee of the Amarillo Area Council to be held in Palo Duro State Park beginning tomorrow and continuing until Sunday afternoon.

The local troop is under the direction of D. A. Nicholas and Levi Cole. Several weeks have been spent in preparation for the contests, which will include camping, cooking, fire building with flint and steel, fire building by friction, knot tying, first aid, drill, signaling, athletics and nature study. Names of contestants for each event are drawn making it necessary for each Scout to be table to take part in any contest.

Marvin J. Paul, executive of the Amarillo Area Council, will be camporee director, and Dr. C. W. Seibel of Amarillo will be chief judge.

Because the camporee is being held in the Park, officials are expecting it to be the largest and most successful ever held in this section. A sizeable tent city will appear Friday, and the Scouts and their officials will live out during the meet.

Trophies will be awarded the troop winning in each event, and a large trophy will go to the winner of the entire camporee. This cup remains in the possession of the winning troop until next year, when they again must win it or it goes to the next winner.

A Catholic priest, a Protestant minister and a Jewish rabbi will be present for religious services Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. Jim Webb of Denton spent the week end at the Irby Carruth home, and visited with other friends.
